LABORERS THROG CAMPUS OBSERVING CLEAN-UP DAY

Students and Professors Lay Aside Books for Big Cleanup; Band Keeps Workers Merry and Flying Squad Checks Up on Slackers

Aber Day, the eleventh annual clean-up day of the year, was announced at 7:45 this morning with the ringing of the bell at Main hall. Students in old clothes and faculty members in their garden attire were checked in, tools issued and the scheduled work well started by 8:15. The flying squadron under the leadership of Oscar Dahlberg checked over the work list and immediately sought the missing students.

Band Starts Day
Professor E. A. Atkinson and his Grizzly band started their music at the stroke of eight and marched over the campus in military style, playing college tunes for the workers. The band will also play this afternoon after the noon hour concert.

Athletes Work
Warren "Wee" Mandlin, manager of the day, and his assistants Jiggs Dahlberg and George Axtell, have their straw bosses and crews on all parts of the campus raking, trucking, grading and doing general clean-up work. Men under the direction of Pat Sague and George Axtell are busy at work re-surfacing the cinder track. Rocks are being removed, elevations leveled and countless ruts and holes filled.

Buck Stove and his able crew are giving the baseball diamond a much-needed repainting. Loads of dirt are being dumped on the diamond, the outfield cleared and the entire diamond sprinkled and rolled.

The Maurice avenue road gang and the campus road gang under the supervision of Midge Griffith and Archie Blair are doing a nice bit of construction work filling ruts and leveling the roadbed.

Many Law Violators
With Cammie Mencher chief of police for the men and Lurena Black chief of the women, reluctant workers are noted and will be dealt with at High Court at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when Chief Justice A. P. Stark, Jr., and his associates, Sam Goya and R. B. Lockwood, will hold sway. The work was halted at noon and a big luncheon, prepared by the women, was served cafeteria style. After the noon meal the Aber oratorical contest took place on the steps of Main hall.

Punishment Severe
At 4 o'clock this afternoon the High Court will convene on the Oval. President C. H. Clapp and Dean A. L. Stone will deliver talks to the students and Judge Stark and his associates will mete out punishment to delinquent students and faculty members, Aber Day slackers.

Dancing in the new gymnasium from 8 to 11 p. m. will complete the day's program. Malm's six-piece orchestra will furnish the music. Admission will be free. Men wearing neckties or white collars will not be allowed to enter the gymnasium, according to Jack Norvell, chairman of the dance committee, and the frolic will be a no-date affair.

PHARMACY STUDENTS TAKE EXAMINATIONS

Five students of the Pharmacy school will leave Wednesday morning for Helena to take the state board examinations in pharmacy, according to Derm E. C. Mellett. Those who will take the examination are: Jack Powell, Elmer Carkeek, Thomas Walker, James Doughty, and Charles Vincent.

LIBRARY RECEIVES BOUND MAGAZINES

A 200-volume shipment of bound magazines and books was just received by the University library from the bindery. The assistant librarians are now working on another large shipment of magazines, which will be ready for the bindery in a few days. Fifteen hundred cards were added to the card catalogue of the library during the past month. The cards will give reference to 500 new books, magazines or catalogues.

Mercantile Trophy Arrived Yesterday

The Missoula Mercantile silver cup awarded to the school making the most points over a period of five interscholastic track meets arrived yesterday, and is on display in the men's clothing department of the Missoula Mercantile company.

The cup is 25 inches high and 15 inches in diameter, and is valued at $100. It was made by R. Wallace and Sons, manufacturers of trophies, at Wallingford, Connecticut.

Bute high school was the winner of the last cup, which was awarded permanently last year.

Special Events
This year there will be special attractions at the carnival such as the special shot put, special 100, and the special mile, all of which Montana will enter. Captain Axtell and Al Blumenthal are tossing the shot out about an equal distance. Arnold Gillette will probably enter in the mile. Russell Sweet will do the century.

The interclass meet will be somewhat of a tryout for the Varsity athletes and the prospective men coming up next year. The coach would like to see many competitors out for the class races.

NOTICE
All manuscripts for the Joyce Memorial contest must be in the hands of Professor H. G. Merriam by Monday, April 20.

TRACKSTERS SHOW UP WELL UNDER STRENUOUS WORKOUTS

Good Weather Enables Team to Excel Early Form of Previous Years

Montana's speed demons are working hard to perfect the relay machines that will be entered in the annual Relay Carnival, to be held in Seattle, May 2, under the auspices of the University of Washington.

The warm weather of the past two weeks has given the track team a decided advantage over some of the teams of other years, in that they are in better condition for this time of year than before.

Interest in Relay
The relay carnival this year seems to be attracting a great deal more interest than in previous years. There have been more teams applying for entrance than ever before. In the high school entries, for the first time a team outside the state of Washington has applied for admission into the meet, when Corvallis, Oregon, high applied for admittance. During the next three weeks the Spirit of Daddy Aber Lives

"At a convocation last Wednesday morning, the student body took action which will result in benefit to the institution and will also do signal honor to one of Montana's greatest and grandest men. The students decided to begin this year the custom of having a clean-up day. On this day, the campus will be cleaned and generally beautified in honor of the man who each spring has taken personal supervision of the beauty of the campus, and who has made it his pride that the campus shall present a pleasing appearance, voted unanimously that this day should be called 'Aber Day,' and that each year one day should be set apart for this purpose."

The above is an excerpt taken from the Kaimin dated March 26, 1915. It is the story in part why "Aber Day" was founded and gives some inkling as to the regard and esteem in which "Daddy" Aber was held in the minds of those who knew him and his work on the campus.

William M. Aber was graduated from the Oswego Normal school in 1872. Six years later, he obtained his B. A. degree at Yale where he was the classmate of ex-President W. H. Taft. Because his name placed him at the head of the roll call and because he was older than the average of his classmates, he was given the name of "Father." Later, when he joined the Montana faculty the students here, purely in the spirit of affection, bestowed upon him the more intimate nickname of "Daddy." All through his almost 25 years' service here on the campus, he bore that relationship to Montana men. When in trouble, they always hunted up "Daddy" Aber, and he helped them in a way no one but "Daddy" Aber could have helped them.

Mr. Aber studied further at Johns Hopkins University, Cornell University,

DADDY ABER
I never saw him, yet he speaks to me. Always I hear him, when I pass that tree. Always I feel, when near that simple stone. That, though I'm lonely, I am not alone.
—WINIFRED MUCKLER.

ity, and at the University of Chicago. Later, he taught in a southern colored college, and then returned to the Oswego Normal as an instructor. In 1880, he became a professor of Latin and Greek at the University of Utah, where he served until he came to Montana at the opening of the University in 1895 as a member of the new University faculty. Until his death, he labored faithfully and unselfishly for the best interests of the University.

Previous to his death, which occurred September 2, 1919, "Daddy" Aber met with a series of misfortunes which undoubtedly hurried his death. In the early fall of 1918, he contracted influenza, and later he broke his arm. A short time following this accident, he was struck by an automobile. It is characteristic of his unselfishness that his relatives knew of these misfortunes only after his death, when they read about them in Missoula papers.

"University Beautiful" was the goal of "Daddy" Aber, and because of his ambitions for the campus he has been called "Godfather of the Campus."

Tuesday's Kaimin, March 28, 1916, said of him, "because he is a friend to every student, they have fittingly termed him 'Daddy' Aber. The word 'Daddy' was prefixed to his name in all respect, for he has been a father to many who are today bucking the big game ahead of us. They named the day set apart for a general clean-up 'Aber Day' because no one took such an interest in making the campus beautiful—in making it a source of pride to all Montana students, as did Professor Aber.

Professor Aber was directly responsible for much of the improvement on the campus. He arranged the group of trees that are scattered about the campus and laid out and cared for the many flower beds that existed during the earlier days of the University. He supervised the planting of trees and shrubs, often going into the woods himself to obtain a certain kind of tree or shrub.

In a talk before the students on "Aber Day," 1919, Professor Aber said that if there was one thing he would like to be remembered for it would be the group of pine trees at the north gate of the campus. He and another professor carried those trees in from a canyon and planted them at the north gate.

There was a great tragedy in "Daddy" Aber's life, but he never allowed it to interfere with his pleasantness. It only intensified his love for the University and his affection for the students.

Some of the characteristics of Professor Aber that make memory of him lasting are: Stinging criticism of the University that would make most of us yawn, griefed "Daddy" Aber to the bottom of his soul. And the fact that the savings of his lifetime were left in the form of an endowment—the Aber Endowment—showed that he had given nearly all that was available toward helping others.

It has been said of him by one who knew him personally, another of his marked characteristics was, he was always so quiet and unassuming about his good work, that it was exceptionally hard to discover it. Seldom could his tracks be found, but when they were discovered, they were leading to some place—accomplishment.

COUNTY HEADS HOLD MEETING AT UNIVERSITY

FIRST SESSION OPENED MONDAY MORNING

Montana One of Three States to Adopt This Plan for Instructing the County Superintendents.

Practically all of the 56 county superintendents of the state were present at the opening sessions of the eighth annual training course for county superintendents which started Monday at the University.

Monday morning's meeting was opened at 9 o'clock with roll call, followed by a few announcements and remarks by President C. H. Clapp. Miss Rose E. Brundt of the state superintendent's office gave a talk on the subject, "Informal Testing," and Dr. Eva May Luse, head of the Teachers' college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, spoke on "Supervision of Instruction."

Miss May Trumper, state superintendent, was the last speaker on the program. She introduced the topic, "New School Laws," which was discussed in the afternoon.

The speakers and their subjects Tuesday were: "Supervision of Instruction," Dr. Luse; "Newly Adopted Textbooks," Miss Brundt. In the afternoon Dr. Luse spoke again on "Classroom Practices," Miss Jessie Duboe of the state office on "Hornshield's Flash Cards," and President Clapp on "Basic Principles in Educational Supervision."

Meals will be served for the superintendents at the Craig hall cafeteria during the two-week period of the teachers' training course. Meetings are being held in room 206 of Pinchot hall. They are being conducted by the office of the state superintendent of public instruction. May Trumper, state superintendent, and her assistants, Rose K. Brandt and Jessie Duboe, rural school supervisors, are in charge.

Montana is one of the three states to have adopted this plan of teachers' training for county superintendents. The session was held at the Dillon Normal college last year. Each year the meetings will be held at one of the four state institutions.

Dr. Eva Luse, who has attended several of these meetings, is going to be present during the entire session.

SENTINEL EDITOR

The sophomore class will hold a ballot election for 1926 Sentinel editor in the library tomorrow. Robert Warden, of Great Falls, filed the only petition for nomination.

Petitions were called for before the end of the winter quarter, and nominees were given until April 8 to file and present their certificates of eligibility from the business office.

ABER DAY CONTEST HAS TWO ENTRANTS

Aber Day Oratorical contest was held this upon the steps of Main hall.

The contestants in the event were Fridolf Kling, sophomore of Missoula, whose subject was "The Three Objectives of College Men," and John Ryan, freshman of Appleton, Wisconsin, who talked on "The Boy Scout Movement." Announcement of the winner will be made at the High Court at 4 o'clock, according to Gid Boldt who is in charge of the arrangements.

This is the fifth annual contest to be held at the University. The fund was created by Professor William Aber with the provision that the interest be divided into prizes each year for the best orations on topics of current interest. The $50 interest from the Aber fund has been divided into two prizes, $35 to first prize winner and 15 for second place. As there are only two contestants this year a single prize of $25 will be given the winner. Mr. J. H. T. Ryan of Missoula is in charge of the fund.

Last year George Boldt won first prize and Olive McKay and Grover Johnson tied for second honors.

Reverend William Young, Professor E. T. Freeman of the English department and Dean C. W. Leaphart of the Law school were the judges.

University of Washington.—Marion Robb has been elected by the press council as editor of the 1926 Tye, University of Washington year book. The selection of Miss Robb as editor again places the year book in the hands of a woman after the long chain of women editors had been broken by the appointment of a man for this year's book.

University of Texas.—Out of 4,790 students at the University of Texas, only twelve are foreign students.

ESSAY CONTEST WILL TERMINATE IN FOUR WEEKS

MANUSCRIPTS MUST BE IN AT NOON, MAY 23

Two Prizes Will Be Offered to Contestants; Subjects Have Been Posted.

Manuscripts for the second annual Bennett Prize Essay Contest must be ready no later than Wednesday noon, May 13, according to Professor J. E. Miller, of the department of history. Subjects and prizes have already been announced and due to the fact that a contest was not held last year two prizes will be given, the first to be $35 and the second $10.

The essay, signed by a fictitious name and accompanied by an envelope bearing the real name of the writer and also his fictitious name, must be handed in to Professor Miller. The essay may be narrative, expository or argumentative in nature and must not be more than 3,000 words in length. Judges as yet have not been selected.

The topics that have been selected are:

1. The Probable Success of the County-City Consolidated Government Plan in Missoula.
2. The Item Veto.
3. State Control of Local Officers.
4. The Limitation of the United States Control of Foreign Relations.
5. The County Manager Plan.
6. The Influence of the United States Supreme Court upon the Constitution.
7. The Reform of the Organization of the United States Senate.
8. The Success of the Commission Form of Government in Missoula.

The Bennett Prize Essay Contest was founded by Mr. Philo S. Bennett of Bridgeport, Connecticut, who set aside in his will $10,000 to be divided among the 25 universities and colleges in the United States to be selected by William J. Bryan of Lincoln, Nebraska. The portion of this endowment allotted to the University of Montana amounts to $500, the annual proceeds of which are given as a prize for the best essay by any student of the University on some subject pertaining to good government.

Out of 4,790 students at the University of Texas, only twelve are foreign students.

ALUMNI CHALLENGE ATHLETIC FIELD TO BE READY IN FALL

Estimated Cost of New Field is $20,000, Which Provides for New Quarter Mile Track and Grandstand With Seating Capacity of 7,000 Persons

Dornblaser field of today will pass into University history with the construction of the new Alumni Challenge Athletic field, which will be ready next fall, provided present plans are completed. The Interscholastic committee, the Athletic Board and Central Board are cooperating with the Montana Alumni Challenge Athletic corporation in the project. The initial cost of the field is estimated at $20,000. This will include the construction of a standard quarter mile track, a football field, a grandstand with seating capacity of 7,000, a fence completely around the field and, possibly, a baseball diamond.

Preliminary plans for the erection of the field were made at Homecoming, 1922, and the organization was incorporated on January 15, 1923. The general business depression of the state dampened early efforts toward the completion of the project and the Board of Trustees did not press the campaign. The treasurer of the corporation now has $1,922.02 in cash, and notes and pledges amounting to $4,870.16, a total of $6,792.18.

New Officers Elected

George R. Shepard of Missoula was elected president of the corporation at a meeting held Monday night. King Garlington was elected treasurer. The officers, the Board of Trustees, and all others concerned who have expressed an opinion on the matter believe that collections of outstanding notes and new subscriptions, together with the present cash, will bring in approximately $10,000 by the close of the fiscal year. Certificates of indebtedness up to $15,000 will be issued to insure the cost of construction.

The Central Board of the Associated Students, the Athletic Board, and the Interscholastic committee will join with the Athletic Field corporation in guaranteeing the interest charges on these certificates. These organizations are interested from a purely financial aspect. The annual expenditures of these organizations

Lawyers Write for Washington Review

Roy Allan, Albert Stark, Frank Murray, Grant Silvernail, Theodore Jacobs, Russell Niles, George Boldt, Archie Blair, Delbert Cawley, and Herbert Onstad of the Law school are writing a series of comments on recent Montana cases that will be published sometime next month in the Washington Law Review, a publication of the law school of the University of Washington.

The Law Review will be the first publication of its nature to be attempted at Washington. It will contain contributions from the law schools of the northwest.

Joe Dunham to Write Musical Score; Art Department to Make Scenery

The cast of "Polly From Paradise," the spring play to be presented by the Masquers, is practically complete. George W. Cronyn, director of the Masquers and author of the play, announced yesterday. Joe Dunham is writing the musical scores for the play.

The play is to be presented April 29, probably at the Liberty theater. Rehearsals will be held daily until the date of presentation.

The cast that has been selected includes: Polly Price, Helen Ramsey; Joe Martinbeck, Nelson Fritz; Jimmie Cahill, Aaron Shull; Sam Wiseman, Virgil Wilson; Farnum Blair, Bob Harper; Laurence the Poet, Aubrey Houston; Mrs. Fainsworth, Margaret Sparr; Goldina Toney, Maureen Desmond; Cass Boles, Les Colby; Maizie Parfurn, Evelyn Siderfin; Dolley Mix, Nan Walsh; Geoffrey Warbridge, Martin Hudloff; Herman Lipp, Chester Watson; Simpkins-Einstein, Dan Harrington; Gus the stage-car-enter, Aubrey Houston; Deborah Pinkle, Merle Cooney; Svenson, Spike Doggett; Mr. Pillsbury, Harold Hepper; Jeff Hackett, Bill Orton; Clarence the baggageman, Buck Stove; and Charley the ticket agent, Herbert Graybeal.

The producing company consists of: Helen McGregor, assistant director; William W. Garver, stage manager; Charles A. Vincent, assistant stage manager; Dan Harrington, art director; Clara Dell Shriver, property manager; Raymond Hall, electrical manager; Melvin Lord, business manager; Harold Hepper, advertising manager; and Joseph Dunham, composer of music.

The construction and painting of the scenery is being done by a force composed of Burgess Hines, Edmund Fritz, Charles A. Vincent, William W. Garver and Dan Harrington. There are five scenes in the play. They are: Act I, the railroad station at Paradise, Montana, in August; Act II, the New York office of Imperial Theatres, Inc.; Act III, the interior of the Fainsworth drawing room; Act IV, behind the scenes at the Imperial theater; and Act V, the Paradise railroad station in February.

Grad Pledges Sum
William G. Long, '16, has pledged $500 to the new field. He writes: "While we owe Montana more than can be measured in money, our appreciation to some extent is shown by the financial sacrifice we are willing to assume."

Another of the many instances of alumni loyalty was that of a Filipino student who earned his way while a student, graduated, and transferred to another university for advanced work. In spite of his heavy burden his gratitude toward the University was so great, he subscribed and paid his notes for $40 in less than a year after graduation.

Many such instances of personal sacrifice have been made by alumni and the Board of Trustees for the Alumni Challenge Field Corporation has expressed the hope that the responses from the alumni will be sufficiently encouraging so that they will be justified in reaching a decision at the time of the Interscholastic track meet as to final action toward building the field this summer.

JUNIOR PROM

The Junior Prom which was set for May 2 has been postponed until May 23, according to Marcia Patterson, junior class president. It will be impossible to get Sheridan's 8 piece orchestra before that date.

Sigma Delta Chi fraternity attended a luncheon at the Chimney Corner Saturday noon. Policies of the fraternity and news correspondence with the state papers were discussed.

Alice Baxter, a freshman at Craig hall, has been ill the past week.

The Aber Day Spirit

(From Kaimin of April 9, 1915)

PRIMARILY the celebration of Aber Day is not the celebration of a holiday. While the day has been set aside to honor the name of Professor Aber, it has been designated as a day which will most fittingly give respect to the "Grand Old Man of Montana University." This is to be done by hard work.

The day is to be given over to work on the campus. This work is to be of material nature and is to result in improvement to the campus. Aber Day is not a day for hikes and strolls in the hills. Fussing is prohibited until after the day's work is done. After that the various committees have no control over the actions of either the men or the women of the University.

Any man or any woman, a student member of the University, who refuses to appear on the campus and share in the work assigned, or who takes advantage of the release from class work and takes to the hills, is one unworthy or residence here. It is hoped that there are no such students at Montana. The Aber Day spirit is the spirit of hard work. There rests upon every student in this college community a duty to share in the celebration of this day by doing a part of the work on the campus. Provision has been made for getting every man and every woman to share in the work. In some cases, if there be refusal, physical force will not avail. Then it is that an appeal to the sense of obligation should prevail. Remember that the day is one for every student of the University and not one for a few.

Then get on the job and do not be one who will require the services of the patrol squad. If every student enters into the work with heartiness Aber Day will be a success this year, with the result that in the years to come its success will be guaranteed. Play the game fairly and we shall all know that we are members of a student body to which it is a pleasure to belong.

A Pleasant Surprise

THE Montana Alumni Challenge Field today receives a new lease on life after an almost three year struggle against heavy odds. The new field until recently was a myth in which very few of the most ardent supporters of the University placed credit, a beautiful mirage that some day might materialize. Very few of us expected a field, stadium or bowl for years to come.

To us the spirit of co-operation exhibited by the alumni organization and the three campus organizations, Central Board, the Athletic Board and the Interscholastic committee deserves special recognition. Recognition second only to the field itself. The way has been opened. Plans call for the early construction of a field that will answer our immediate needs which will possibly be ready for use next fall. Now we have a part to play before the bubble of today crystallizes and actual work is started. Indebtedness certificates totaling $15,000 must be purchased. The investment is sound. A good portion of the amount will be cared for upon the completion of the plans. It is up to us both as individuals and organizations to do our part and make the proposal an early reality.

Not Guilty!

IT SEEMS to us that the kind of school spirit which has to be enforced by a bevy of paddles and policemen has something inherently wrong with it. To walk out in front of the bleachers during a football game and threaten everyone who didn't respond satisfactorily with a good clubbing, would be both unprofitable and ridiculous. Perhaps some of the spectators would merit the punishment, but it would be poor psychology to think that the beating would bring the desired result. We have always been of the opinion that school spirit, since it is and naturally would be the expression of deep-seated emotions, is not capable of being herded around, however impressive the threatening force might be. The policemen who are appointed today to assist in carrying out the Aber Day program were not selected because coercion of any sort was deemed necessary, but merely for the purpose of furnishing the court proceedings with the sensational "frame-ups" that are quite necessary to the proper observance of the tradition. We are sure that no one who knows anything of the life of "Daddy" Aber could be guilty of any crime more serious than physical compulsion.

A Theory That Doesn't Hold Water

WE HAVE heard quite frequently repeated the theory that athletics are conducive to mental and physical cleanliness. Under normal circumstances, good clean exercise, however competitive it might be, with a legitimate objective as its end, should produce just that result. Still, in the light of our own observations, which have been less casual perhaps than the average, we are not prone to grant the theory much credence in its actual application. We cite in justification of our opinion, the atmosphere which prevails any afternoon during practices on our athletic field (and we are inclined to think that there is nothing abnormal about the example we have chosen). Big hairy-chested, he-man athletes, splendid examples of the best that our system of athletics can produce, mix such an assortment of profanity and vulgarity with their exhibitions of physical prowess that the average spectator has difficulty in distinguishing it from decent sporting vernacular. Needless to say, the bleachers have become a risqué retreat for even the seasoned type of feminine fan. Now we ask, in all justice, how anyone can expect to find an abundance of athletic enthusiasm in any school where the women students are embarrassed every time they get close enough to the field to learn the names of the players?

While the athletic department cannot be wholly responsible for everything that goes on during practices in the afternoons, at least can, as instructors in classroom subjects do, make a conscious effort to maintain a gentlemanly order of conduct.

tions as to the intellectual character or moral honesty of the champions of either side.

Let us have more hats in the ring to prove to Carstens that we have some intellectual and moral courage. Otherwise the case will go to default. And have we not the ability, tact, and broadmindedness to carry on these discussions so as not to repress ideas, but encourage them and thereby derive intellectual and moral benefit?

SUMMONS

To Whom It May Concern

Hear ye! Hear ye!

List to the voice of Justice, ye evil-doers, ye culprits who in your vaunted laziness have attempted to avoid contact with the business end of the shovel, the pick and the rake, ye whose minds are so warped and corroded by vanity that you are useless in the name of LABOR. List ye then to the voice of the supreme court of the State University of Montana.

You and each of you are hereby summoned to appear before the Supreme Court of the University of Montana at 4 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, the 15th day of April, 1925, to show cause—if any there be—why you are charged with the herein mentioned high crimes and misdemeanors.

Miriam Woodard, charged with the high crime of appearing at the entrance of the campus at 9:51 a. m., dressed in clothes unbecoming the spirit of Aber Day.

Burley Miller, late as usual.
Bernard Blomgren, "fussing."
Carlos Houtchens and Bee Forkenbrock, accessories before the fact, and co-respondent.

H. J. Deutsch—neckware.
Phil King, Joe Dunham, Bob Nofsinger, Hoffman, Blakeslee—"sleeping in."

A. A. Applegate—soliciting.
Washington J. McCormick—late to work.

Built To Write Hard Words

Conklin Engineers called this "the Students' Special" because it was "built to meet the severe stresses of school and college use."

Which is a scientific way of saying that here's a pen that will walk right into the jaws of calligraphy for the most aggressive logomachist in the class room.

For men and women, fitted with "the clip that can't slip" or the gold ring for ribbon. Try one at your favorite store.

Communications

Editor of Kaimin:
To me Mr. Bowers' communication in Friday's Kaimin implies that he is in a condition similar to one who is contaminated with a widespread contagious disease, and scorns anyone who dares to attempt checking it.

The disease in Mr. Bowers' case is, I believe, blind and unreasoning patriotism. He apparently believes that, since each and every one of us are receiving an education at a state University, we should accept existing conditions and take orders without question, oblivious of results, in order that we in our turn shall be able to uphold identical conditions, and give orders in the same way we received them. If this be true, and I take it (he having been an ex-hard-boiled sergeant in an overseas fighting division) Mr. Bowers is qualified to judge, he has ably supported Carstens' illustration of the ineffectuality of the military training in general and the ROTC in particular.

In reply to Mr. Bowers' statement concerning AWS, I say that when my sister comes here fresh from high school, I am confident that her sense of morality, fostered by home influence, will survive more readily in an atmosphere of healthy relations with her companions than in an artificial atmosphere created by an administrative machine, whose effectiveness is doubtful.

J. K. FLIGHTNER.

Editor of the Kaimin:

I want to make a few comments suggested by the two communications which appeared in late issues of the Kaimin, signed, respectively, Carstens, and Raymond J. Bowers. I do not at this time care to discuss the subject matter of their controversy in the way of taking sides, but I do desire to make some comment on the spirit and attitude of the two articles. I may say that I am personally unacquainted with the authors.

Whether right or wrong in his conclusions, it seemed evident to me that Carstens had done some thinking on the subject in question, and also had the moral courage to voice his conclusions. These are two characteristics, certainly, that every college student should develop in the course of his college career. There are enough rules, regulations, customs and traditions—good, bad, and indifferent—about the campus of any University, to provoke thought, and suitable for discussion in the school paper. And there is enough room for differences of opinion on the subjects Carstens happened to mention, or any others likely to be chosen, without insinua-

GRIZZLIES TAKE SATURDAY'S CONTEST FROM KHAKI LADS

Ninth Inning Rally Allows Soldier Boys Three Runs and Tightens Score

Cap Cummings' ball tossers barely nosed Fort Missoula out of a 12 to 11 victory last Saturday afternoon after a belated ninth inning rally by the soldiers fell one run short. This was the first outside practice game of the season. It was slow and featured by poor defensive work, but there was enough hard clouting to liven the game up. The same teams will play at the Fort Saturday.

All four of the pitchers, Jimmy O'Connor, Danta Hanson and Bill Centerwall for the Grizzlies, and Cole for the Fort, were hit frequently. O'Connor, with the exception of one inning, got by fairly well, and when he was taken out he had his hook and drop working nicely.

Swatting honors for the Varsity go to Kelly, Anderson and Ilman, while Bartnick, Daniels and Cole led the Fort attack. Two homers featured the hitting, Bartnick and Scorp Anderson each driving the agate in Bam-bino style. Anderson, Steven and Bartnick fielded in nice fashion, stopping many fast ones when a hit meant runs.

Early in the game the Grizzlies got a comfortable lead, but wild pegging near the end endangered it. The soldiers got to O'Connor for four count-ers in the second, but Cap Cummings' nine soon regained the lost ground when they tore into Cole for five runs in their half of the second.

When Centerwall took the mound in the sixth he was nipped for a double, a triple, another double and a single in rapid succession. Bill weathered the storm, however, and didn't allow the Fort to regain the lead.

Danta Hanson replaced Centerwall in the ninth. He was touched for three singles, which combined with wild throws, netted the soldiers three runs.

The game gave Captain Cummings a chance to get a good line on the strength and weaknesses of the team, and the game at the Fort next Saturday will probably be more closely played, and much less of a swatfest.

SPORTY-VENTS

"Sweet, Montana sprinter, breaks another record," says a Seattle Post-Intelligencer headline. According to unofficial timing Russ did the 220 and century sprints in record time Thursday. When he runs in the Seattle relays the first week in May he will get his first test in intercollegiate races.

Monday Coyle made good time in the low hurdles, while Gillette bettered the time now standing for the mile. Ritter and Stark tore off the quarter mile in about the same time made by Bob Egan two years ago.

The Grizzlies clouted the pill better Saturday than they did in their first practice game last year which was played with the town team. The boys showed the effect of the bunting practice that they have been getting by laying down three or four pretty ones.

Some guy who didn't know that the spitter has been barred asked Centerwall why he isn't using it this year. Bill replied, "Well, you see this is a pretty dry town."

Montana opens her gridiron season next fall against the W.S.C. Cougars. Al Exendine, the Carlisle Indian coach of W.S.C., says, after a few weeks of spring practice, that he has the best material at Washington State that he has had at any time. That's nothing—Coach Click Clark is well pleased with the spring "stuff" he is working with, and is mighty optimistic about the Grizzly football possibilities for next fall.

Powell county high school has a track man, Bud Gill, who is out to break the state record in the javelin throw. Gill has heaved the spear 152 feet in practice, which is only nine feet short of the state record. Coach John Mashin is putting his boys through stiff workouts, and will send a good team to the Interscholastic.

Coach C. O. Glisson, of Gallatin county high, sent only two men over for the track meet last year and none the year before. Years ago Bozeman was not only represented by a big team, but also by a good rooting section. About 10 years ago Bozeman won five consecutive meets. We would like to see a big Gallatin high representation here May 13-14-15.

Both Coaches Stewart and Clark have expressed desires to have more men come out for track and football. If Montana is going to get her share of track and football glory this spring and next fall, she must have large turnouts for the teams. Why not get out and discover your hidden possibilities? You don't have to be a slicker from the start.

Here's a sportsworld puzzle that will be run in this column each issue. Answers to the questions will appear in the following issue.

What big league pitcher's name in four letters puts you in mind of a student on the campus who has been active in Masquer productions, or reminds you of something that is absolutely necessary at a wedding?

What fighter's name in seven letters suggests a popular style in men's suits?

What first baseman in the big show has a name in five letters that suggests learned men that our law school turns out?

The University of Toronto boasts of a real "Tom Thumb." This unusual student is a freshman, three feet, six inches high.

GRIDIRON PROSPECTS LOOK GOOD FOR 1925

Coleman and Johnson Are Latest Additions to Varsity Squad; Teams Scrimmage

Montana's 1925 football hopes are being considerably stimulated by the splendid showing that is being made in spring training scrimmages. Coach Click Clark believes that he will be able to turn out a line that will average 180 pounds next fall as compared with a 165-pound line last fall. Dewayne Johnson and Charley Coleman are the latest additions to the squad. Both of these men are big and husky, and will prove to be valuable assets to the team during the next gridiron season. They returned to school for the spring quarter, and will be eligible for play next fall.

Scrimmage Brings Results

Enough men are coming out to make scrimmage games possible, but Coach Clark would like to see more men in moleskins as track and baseball are keeping several of the letter-men away. Freshmen as well as others are urged to come out and get a start. No previous experience is necessary.

Some of the linemen who are out are: Bailey and Colby, centers; Cozswell, Coleman and Mains, guards; Vierhuis, Whitcomb and Streit, tackles; Rogdlien, Brittenham, Overturf, Hudson, Larson and Burrell, ends. The backfield possibilities romping over the green of Dornblaser field are: Sam Kain, Johnson, T. Hodges, W. Hodges, Houston, Griffin, and Suerne.

Freshmen and others on the squad are: Cowan, Lincke, Kiesel, Anderson, Hoem, Alton, Blue, Ossnes, Squires, Ring, R. Shatuck, Brewster, MacLaughlin and Carlson.

PATHE NEWS FILMS UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Pictures of KUOM, radio station, the Grizzly band, Bill Kelly and Russell Sweet, featured the 600 feet of film used by the Pathe News photographer on the campus Friday afternoon. "Stills" of the radio studio and action pictures of the band on the oval were taken.

Close-up and action pictures of Russell Sweet and Bill Kelly were taken in track and baseball respectively.

The exposed film was sent to New York City to be developed and cut. It will be shown in Missoula at the Rialto theater in about three weeks according to Professor C. D. Shallenberger, head of the Physics department.

BEAR PAW-TANAN'S DANCE IS SATURDAY

The Bear Paw-Tanans dance to be held Saturday night, April 18, will be the opening dance of the season at Greenough park. The dance will be informal, and there will be no taxis in view of the fact that street car service is available within a block of the pavilion.

In former years the Bear Paws have put on the dance alone, but it was believed that the combined efforts of the two organizations this year would enable them to give one of the best dances of the season.

Tickets for the dance may be obtained from Bear Paws or Tanans at $1.

FACULTY MEMBERS RETURN FROM MEET

Chancellor M. A. Brannon, Professors H. G. Merriam, N. J. Lennes, M. J. Elrod, F. O. Smith, Edmund Freeman, J. F. Kirkwood, B. E. Thomas and Miss Grace Reely returned Sunday from Spokane after attending a meeting of the Inland Empire Teachers' association.

While in Spokane, Mr. Merriam spent an evening with Vachel Lindsay. Mr. Lindsay is one of America's most popular poets, and is the author of "Conquero," "Mr. Lindsay," said Mr. Merriam, "feels bitterly against the rage of jazz, and believes that is the representative height of attainment of the average American's interest in poetry."

"A Curse on the Saxophone," continued Mr. Merriam, "is the latest work of Mr. Lindsay's, and the poem has been published in the Spokane papers and will appear in the poet's collective edition which is now on the press."

Professor Merriam stated that Mr. Lindsay might visit Montana and give a talk to the students sometime in May if the date can be arranged.

NOTICE YWCA

YWCA cabinet will not meet Wednesday evening.

"COMING OF SPRING" IS MAY FETE CHOICE

"The Coming of Spring," by Miss Agnes Getty, is the manuscript selected by Professors H. G. Merriam, Sidney Cox and Edmund Freeman, for production at the May Fete, Miss Dora Houck, manager of May Fete, has appointed her managers. Try-outs will start this week.

The managers named follow:

RELIGION CLUBS MAKE HEADWAY

Presbyterian Bible Classes and C.S.A. Largest of Religious Societies

William L. Young, Inter-church University pastor and representative for the Council of Church Boards of Education, is the director of student religious activity on the campus. Through the co-operation of the officers of the various student religious organizations with Mr. Young, some strong societies have been built. Each organization makes a definite effort to have a vital part in the development of student life on the campus.

The Presbyterian church has two student organizations. One, the University Bible class, is the largest and strongest group of its kind on the campus. It has nearly 100 members and is under the leadership of Rev. J. N. Maclean. The society meets every Sunday morning in the church. Fred Staat was recently chosen president of this group. The other Presbyterian Bible class is under the direction of Mrs. J. N. Maclean. It is known as the Student Guild and is composed entirely of young women. There are about 80 enrolled in the class. The Guild, which is devoted to the practical work of the church's world program, meets at various homes, usually the first Tuesday of each month.

The Bible class of the Baptist church gathers every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. About once a month a social meeting is held. There is always something new, something different at the meetings, it is said. Members of the University Symphony orchestra help to furnish the music. An executive committee of about six members has charge of the meetings and entertainments. The members of this committee are constantly changed.

The Lutheran Students' association was organized in 1923, and now has about 30 members. Meetings are held every two weeks. "Open forums" are held, and entertainment of various kinds is furnished. The social hour ends with the singing of "College Chums." Lawrence Ulvestad is the president of this organization.

The Episcopal club and the Methodist Wesleyan club are similar organizations. Both are units of national organizations. The first named has about 50 members, and meets about once a quarter. The Methodist club is also fairly large, but meets more often. Entertainment similar to that of the Lutheran society is given.

The Catholic Students' association meets the first Sunday of each month in St. Anthony's parish school. Breakfast is served to the club immediately after the nine o'clock mass, and a business meeting follows. The club last year had over a hundred members, and it is said that there are even more students enrolled this year. Angus C. Meagher is president of the society.

STUDENTS HEED ORDERS FOR SILENCE IN LIBRARY

Signs, warning the students to be quiet, in the halls, were placed in the library last week. So far, conditions have been much improved, but some still persist in talking. "This ruling applies to all," said Miss Buckhouse, University librarian. "Students must have consideration for those who wish to study."

"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

JOHN BARRYMORE himself would "get the hook" if he did not know his cues, or read his lines as called for by the action of the play.

Engineers get cues, too—from the industrial drama of which they are a part. Like actors, their performance must fit the action of an economic play.

Thus the reason that the journals, the societies, the schools, colleges, teachers, and well-known public men are urging engineers to study economics—to learn the nature and effect of economic laws.

To build the largest generator or the smallest meter, for example, is not always in itself a great engineering feat. The feat consists in having it ready at a time, a price, and with such features as the prevailing economic situation calls for.

In this sense engineers—and particularly Westinghouse engineers—must be "practicing economists". They must follow closely the "action of the play"—analyzing fundamental conditions in every field, and calculating their causes and probable effects.

All this, so that when a cue is spoken in factory or home, on farm or railroad, on the sea or in the air, they may be ready.

This advertisement is eighth in a vocational series, outlining the fields for engineering achievement in the Westinghouse organization. A copy of the entire series will be sent to anyone requesting it.

ACHIEVEMENT & OPPORTUNITY

UNIVERSITY TO HEAR FAMOUS SOCIOLOGIST

Maurice Parmelee Comes Here on His International Tour
for Leigh Bureau

Maurice Parmelee, sociologist, psychologist, and author, who is on a transcontinental tour under the management of the Leigh lecture bureau of New York, will speak at a student convocation to be held in Main hall, Monday, April 20, at 11 o'clock. The subject of his talk will be "The Economic Collapse of Europe."

Havelock Ellis, philosopher and author, says of Mr. Parmelee: "He possesses a temperamentally cool, judicial, deliberate mind, with a seemingly instinctive impulse to balance and weigh all the considerations that are brought before him." Other notable places him as one of the most distinguished of the younger thinkers in the field of social and psychological science.

Yale Graduate

Mr. Parmelee is a graduate of Yale and Columbia universities and has been professor of sociology, economics and anthropology at the Universities of Minnesota, Missouri, and Kansas, and the College of the City of New York. He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the Institute International de Sociologie.

"His lectures before scientific and lay audiences both in Europe and America have, for years, been models of ease and clarity combined with sound scholarship and stimulating originality," says the Leigh lecture bureau of Mr. Parmelee.

Has War Record

Mr. Parmelee, as a representative of the United States War Trade Board in London and taking part in the administration of the blockade, was the only American who was chairman of an Allied committee, the Allied Rationing committee. From 1920 to 1923, as economic advisor for the United States Department of State, he traveled extensively in Europe.

"The Science of Human Behavior," "Criminology," "Poverty and Social Progress," "Personality and Conduct," and "Blockade and Sea Power" are some of Mr. Parmelee's most noted books.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE RETURN ENGAGEMENT

New Features Are Being Worked
Out for Second Appearance; Ticket Sale Monday

The University Glee club, under the direction of De Lora Smith, will appear at the Wilma theater Tuesday, April 21, for a second Missoula performance. An entire change of program and several new features will be presented, according to Helen Newman, manager for the club.

The ticket sale will be in charge of the Tanans, and the Wilma theater has offered a prize to each of the three girls who sell the greatest number of tickets. The prize for the one who sells the most tickets is a three months pass to the Wilma; a pass good for one month will be given to the next girl on the list; and for third place, a two weeks pass to the Wilma. Students may secure their tickets from the Tanans on the campus the Monday preceding the concert.

The quartette is working on some special selections for the concert. It appeared before a Kiwanis luncheon yesterday noon.

Soon after the Missoula performance, the club will make a tour of the Flathead country.

Dr. Rider to Award Prize This Quarter

The Rider Art Prize, which is awarded annually by Dr. T. T. Rider of Missoula through the Art League, is to be awarded this quarter. This prize is given to the student in the Department of Fine Arts who shows the greatest advancement in art during the year. Evan Reynolds, a junior in the department, was granted the prize in 1923, and Arnold Gillette, a sophomore, won it last year.

Journalism Major Will Edit Spring Issue of Frontier

The spring issue of the Frontier, University literary publication, will be editorially in charge of Miss Lurena Black. Miss Black is a senior in the School of Journalism.

The publication needs a new circulation manager to take the place of John Frohlicher, who left school this quarter. All applicants should apply to Professor H. G. Merriam. The position has something in it financially for a man who will work.

Nine hundred copies of the winter issue of the Frontier have been circulated.

PRESIDENT OF AWS OFF TO CONVENTION

Doris Kennedy, president of AWS, left Saturday morning for Eugene, Oregon, where she will represent Montana at the national convention of AWS. The meeting will be held April 15 to 19.

The principal subject for discussion at the convention will be "The Place of AWS on the Campus." Talks will be given on athletics, activities, vocational guidance, scholarship and the honor system.

About 150 delegates are expected at the convention and many social functions have been planned in their honor.

VOCATIONAL LEADER WILL LECTURE HERE

Florence Jackson Will Conduct
Round Table at Women's Conference Soon

Miss Florence Jackson, vocational leader for women who has been on an extended speaking tour of the western universities, will arrive in Missoula Wednesday, April 22, for the Women's Vocational Conference, to be held April 23-24-25.

The main features of the program for the students will center around seven round table discussions and many individual conferences with Miss Jackson.

Thursday night, April 23, a banquet will be given in honor of Miss Jackson. Townswomen, including the members of the Business Women's club, the American Association of University Women and the Woman's club will be invited to attend the dinner.

Miss Jackson will stay at North hall during her visit here and will be entertained by the sororities on the campus. She will leave Saturday night or Sunday morning for Butte.

Bateman Addresses Alchemist Meeting

Dr. W. G. Bateman addressed the members of the Alchemist club, Thursday night, on the "Cheapness of Physical Culture Magazines of the Present Day;" and "The Practices of Quack Doctors." "Only the quack doctors subscribe to such magazines," said Dr. Bateman. "There are many good health magazines in circulation, and students, who expect to study medicine, should be careful in their choice of reading material."

Clarence Beeman gave a short talk on the history, aims and progress of the club. All chemistry majors were invited to attend and an invitation extended to those who wish to become majors at the next regular meeting. The date of initiation has not been set, according to William Koch, acting treasurer of the club.

SOCIAL FRAT INITIATES ELEVEN NEW MEMBERS

Montana Alpha chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon announces the initiation of the following men: Boynton Paige, Twin Bridges; Arthur Yen-son, Gering, Nebraska; Lester Graham, Jacob Miller, Columbus; Frank Strong, Moore; William Cowan, Great Falls; Homer Anderson, Lead, South Dakota; Kenneth Sanders, Pony; Adis Ainsworth, Thompson Falls; John Fenn, Helena, and Ted Cochran, Darby.

Kenneth Simmons, a graduate of the Law school at the end of the winter quarter, is employed by the Loud and Leavitt firm of Miles City.

CALLAGHAN RETURNS FROM DAV MEETING

Montana Treasurer Gives Report of Frank J. Irwin, National Commander of DAV

Eugene J. Callaghan, treasurer of the Department of Montana, Disabled American Veterans, returned to the campus Friday from Helena where he attended a three-day meeting of the various ex-service organization leaders held in honor of a visit to the department by the national commander of the DAV, Frank J. Irwin.

Inspects Hospital

Mr. Irwin is on the return lap of an inspection tour of the country in which he visited many of the government hospitals where disabled men are being treated. While in Helena the commander inspected the Fort Harrison hospital and reported after the inspection that he was far from satisfied with conditions at the institution. A visit to the Broadwater hotel led to a recommendation by the commander that the government take over the property and utilize it for hospital purposes.

Praises Vocational Men

After a visit to the regional office of the United States Veterans bureau where the visitor examined the records made by Montana trainees in the state educational institutions, regarding this inspection he said: "I am surprised to find such an excellent report for the disabled men in the Helena files. The men who have and are attending your state institutions have a record that is not equalled by trainees in other states. I am also well pleased with conditions in the regional office and appreciate the spirit of co-operation that exists between the trainees, the organization and the bureau in your state."

The Montana executive committee selected Helena as the place of the convention which will be held the latter part of May.

Smoke Chaser Jobs Offered Foresters

Fay Clark, chairman of the Forestry school employment committee, announces that many jobs have been secured for forestry students during the summer vacation.

A certain amount of summer work is required in the Forestry school before a student may receive a degree. Regular credit is given for field work and is counted towards graduation. Each summer's work, if passed satisfactorily, is graded both for credits and grade points.

Employers of the students are required to submit a report of the work done to the school, which bases the grade on the report. The employer also sends a personnel report, relative to application, interest, etc.

Professor Walter Pope of the Law school was in Thompson Falls attending court last week.

Blue Print Machine Arrives for Work

The Montana Forestry school is in receipt of an electric blue print machine which has been shipped to the University from the State Highway office at Helena.

"The machine cost around $500 and is one of the finest of its kind in the country," said Dean Spaulding of the Forestry school.

In the past most of the blue print work for the buildings and for the University grounds was done by private contract. The new machine will care for all this work and thereby be a saving to the institution. The machine will also be used in the Forestry school for instructional purposes.

KAPPA TAU HOLDS INITIATION BANQUET

Kappa Tau, local scholarship fraternity, held an initiation Saturday afternoon, April 11, and a banquet that evening at the Blue Parrot. About 30 plates were set.

Phi Beta Kappa members on the faculty, Dr. and Mrs. Jesse, Prof. W. R. Ames, Prof. A. S. Merrill, Prof. W. G. Bateman and Mrs. E. MacKenzie, were present and also Kappa Tau alumnae, Dr. C. H. Clapp, Lois Jaimson and Monica Burke.

The following were initiated: Gretchen Coates, Plains; Elizabeth Custer, Sylvia Johnson, Mary Kirkwood, Missoula; Henrietta Wilhelm, Butte; Vernon Setser, Missoula; Walter Simpson, Plains; Doris Rouse, Three Forks; Genevieve Murray, Missoula; Leroy Merryfield, Hilger; Elsie McDowell, Butte; Magdalene Larson, Westby; Hamline Kvalnes, Three Forks.

Elsie Heller Visits With Girls at Hall

Miss Elsie B. Heller, national student secretary of the YWCA, who has been staying at North hall for several days, left Tuesday for the University of Idaho, where she will visit their YWCA cabinet officers.

Miss Heller talked to the girls Monday noon after lunch concerning Y. W. work, and held conferences with those who wished to talk with her about work in social service or community teaching.

Phi Sigma Pledges Thirteen Students

Phi Sigma, national biological fraternity, announces the pledging April 10 of Elizabeth Kilroy, Butte; Ella Stockton, Missoula; Helen Hammerstrom, Rosebud; Helen Griffin, Missoula; Cruda Hall, Missoula; Bernard Lee, Allan Burtness, Harmony, Minnesota; Ralph Fields, Aida, Idaho; Angus Meagher, Butte; William Fell, Cody, Wyoming; Jay McCarthy, Billings; Raymond Bowers, Caswellton, N. D.; Carl Beall, Columbus, Ohio. The initiation will be held May 22.

Mathematics Frat To Hold Banquet

A banquet at the Blue Parrot tea room will close the installation ceremonies of Pi Mu Epsilon, mathematics fraternity, next Thursday evening, April 16. The installation will be for the charter members only, so that the chapter will be better organized when other members are admitted to membership in the organization.

On the Campus

Alpha Tau Omega announces the pledging of Professor LeRoy Norvell, instructor in public speaking. Kathleen O'Donnell of Billings was called home Sunday evening, because of the death of her mother.

The date for the North hall formal, originally set for May 23, has been changed to May 2.

Constance Peterson, a resident at Craig hall this quarter, sustained a broken nose in an automobile accident, last week-end. Miss Peterson was on her way to Darby to spend Easter with her brother when the accident occurred.

Alpha Xi Delta entertained at a fireside for Sigma Phi Epsilon, Friday, April 10.

Alice Baxter, '28, has been in St. Patrick's hospital since last Saturday with acute indigestion.

Johns Hopkins University.—Re-arrangement of the entire undergraduate department of the Johns Hopkins university is being considered. Under this system it would be an institution of higher learning and scientific research. Men desiring to come to Johns Hopkins would be forced to spend their freshman and sophomore years at other institutions.

In a certain western college (this may apply to Montana to a certain degree) dates for the girls are arranged by the faculty, but most girls wouldn't give a fig for a date like that.—S. P. I.

KAPPA EPSILON MEET CALLED

Large Delegation From Other States to Attend Convention Next Week

Kappa Epsilon, national pharmacy fraternity for women, will hold its annual convention in Missoula, April 23-24-25.

Miss Florence Jackson, who is in charge of the vocational conference to be held here next week, will address the members of the fraternity Friday afternoon. Most of the time will be given over to discussion of problems relative to the organizations and chapter cooperation.

Kappa Psi, national pharmacy fraternity for men, will give a dance in honor of the members of Kappa Epsilon on Friday night, April 24.

Many Expected "Delegates from Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska have notified the local committee that they will attend," said Martha Reichle. "A large delega- tion is expected from other institu- tions."

This is the third annual convention of Kappa Epsilon. Ruth MacFarlane represented the Montana chapter at the last year held at the University of Iowa. "The University of Montana is fortunate to have this convention," said Dean E. C. Mollett of the Pharmacy school, "it is a big boost for the University and will do a great deal in the matter of advertising our school."

PILL-ROLLERS TAKE SEVEN NEW MEMBERS

Kappa Psi, national pharmacy fraternity, held mock initiation Friday night and formal, Saturday night. Those initiated were: Andy Watson, Manhattan; Emil Riefflin, Superior; Dwight Elderkin, Butte; Hershel Hoskins, Butte; John Jarussi, Red Lodge; Lynn Keeper and Jack Wheatley, Missoula.
